'How Could You Treat Me So?" Miss Knopp, Bride for Day, Sobs at Meeting.

"How could you have treated me so heartlessly? It is all a terrible dream to me. It will be difficult for me to forgive.' Thus sobbed a comely girl yesterday when she met face to face in the office of Inspector Clifford L. Grant, chief of detectives, the man who she avers deserted her day following their illegal marriage here in July last.

The accused man is Arlington Melvin Braden, twenty-seven years old, 2025 H street northwest, whose home is near Staunton, Va. His accuser to Miss Martha Knopp, whose home is also near Staunton, Va.

According to the information ob-NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 16.—The tained by Inspector Grant and Detective Sergeant Hughlett, who arrested Braden, the man married a medal, has been awarded by the French government to Doctor Har-Greenbrian county, W. Va., on November 10 of last year, in New York flet A. Rice, a negro woman, for her city. It is alleged he deserted her services in French military hospitals shortly afterward, and made the acquaintance of Miss Knopp, courting her for two years. He and Miss Knopp came to this city from their home town and were married here. The ceremony was performed and they stopped at a local hotel that night. The following day, Miss Knopp claims, he showed her a telegram from the West informing him of the serious illness of a near relative. She readily agreed that he should go, whereupon he gave her sufficient money with which to travel to her home She did not see him again until she confronted him at the inspector's office yester-

> A few days ago she came to this city and explained her plight. She learned where he was and she was advised to have a warrant issued for his arrest on the charge of nonsupport. When he was hailed before the Juvenile Court he was questioned by Detective Hughlett in regard to his former marriage. He strenuously denied ever having known or seen Miss Knopp, it is charged. However, he was escorted to police headqaurters, where he was cdosely questioned. He again denied having known Miss Knopp, but when it was threatened that he would be held until his case was fully investigated he confessed, the inspector said. "I'm through with that man," she told the detectives after she had learned that her marriage to inin tered in a plaintive tone, "How could you have done such a thing? How could you have treated me so heartlessly? It is all a terrible dream, It will be difficult for me to for-

Premier Virtually Certain to Remain at Home-Balfour to

Head British Delegation. By Internationa! News Service. LONDON, Sept. 16 .- It was learned for a virtual certainty today that Premier Lloyd George will not go to Washington to attend the far east and disarmament conference. There are too many big domestic and international issues hanging fire at home to permit the premier to go to

The conviction in Downing street that the premier would not go to Washington was strengthened by the latest Irish developments. The pre-mier had told friends he would not go to the United States unless he could take with him the prestige that would come from an Irish settlement, in view of the great interest of the Americans in the Irish sitaution.
